Excerpt: . correspondence referred to is here printed in full as follows:) W-58. Philadelphia, Pa., December 4, 1918. Matthew C. Brush, Esq., Vice President American International Corporation, Philadelphia, Pa. Dear Sir: During the last week of the fourth liberty loan, while fulfilling my duties as Hold secretary for the four-minute men and the Council of National Defense, I, accompanied by 20 returned wounded American soldiers, canvassed the patrons of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in furtherance of the bond sales. Several directors and officers of your corporation were present and, realizing the psychological effect these returned wounded soldiers would have on the workingnien of the Hog Island shipyard, I was approached with a proposition to devote my time toward securing the discharge of a number of such soldiers that they might be brought to the shipyard and put to work at various trades and occupations. On October...
